New Patients

If this is your pet's first visit with us, we will perform a full physical examination to insure that there are no obvious health problems that could lead to complications during the procedure. (Cost $47.00).

Pre-Anesthetic Blood Tests

Your pet is with us for a procedure that will require a sedative and/or anesthesia. We always recommend a pre-op blood profile to screen for proper function of the kidneys and liver that may not be evident on a physical examination. The testing is REQUIRED for animals 7 years old or older. (In-house mini-chemistry is $50.40: Full CBC/Chemistry is $77.50-96.30)

Sevoflow Anesthesia

We use both Isoflurane and Sevoflow gas anesthesia. Your Doctor may choose Sevoflow anesthesia for your pet. It is an anesthetic that is utilized for 95% of all human pediatric procedures in the US. It allows for rapid, smooth induction and recovery with no "anesthesia hangover." There is an additional cost of $1.00 per minute of anesthesia time above the normal anesthesia charge. This anesthetic may be more appropriate for your pet's condition/procedure. Your Doctor will decide which anesthetic to use.

Intravenous Catheter & Fluids

Your Doctor will decide whether a catheter and fluids will be needed during your pet's procedure. This is to help make your pet's anesthetic experience as safe as possible by maintaining optimal blood pressure and hydration, as well as to have quick and ready access to the veins should s/he have any anesthetic reactions and require resuscitation. A small patch of fur must be shaved for IV catheter placement. The cost for IV catheter and fluid administration ranges from $64.09.

Pain Control

Your pet's safety and comfort are our top priority. Different procedures may cause different levels of discomfort (depending on the individual's pain threshold), therefore, the type of pain medication used and amounts required to keep your pet comfortable will vary. Costs can range from $35.44/day (for daily medication) to $148.52. A *Fentanyl patch, which lasts 3-5 days and provides 24-hr pain control will vary depending on the weight of your pet. Your doctor will decide which medication is appropriate to keep your pet as comfortable as possible while in our care. *A small patch of fur must be shaved to apply the pain patch directly to the skin.
